WAIPAHU STRIKE IS PROGRAMMED FOR TODAY BY HIGH-WAGE LEADERS

HONOLULU PLANTATION AND MILL, WHERE THE STRIKE IS ON.

The Mill Men Went Out Yesterday--Today the Laborers Go.

More than two thousand Japanese laborers on Waipahu will strike this morning thus tying up that plantation, at the instigation of the so-called leaders of the Higher Wage Association. The mill men quit work yesterday morning and today the field laborers will stop.

The entire force at Aiea, including the Chinese, struck yesterday morning. The Chinese were coerced into leaving the jobs. They had no grievance, but on a show of intimidation they decided to yield.

Only these two plantations are proposed in the plans of the conspiring leaders of the Higher Wage Association to be involved in a strike at this time. Ewa and Waiālaea Japanese plantation laborers are expected to continue at work in order that they may contribute funds to support the striking laborers at Waipahu and Aiea.

Although the officials of the Planters' Association, and others, met yesterday afternoon to discuss the strike situation, no decision was reached as to what is to be done to meet the situation, as no demands had been made of the manager of either the Honolulu or the Oahu plantation. Fred Makino, who seems to be engineering the strikes for the Higher Wage Association, and is also backed by legal advice, stated on Sunday that he was preparing the demands of the strikers, to be put in writing and presented to the management yesterday.

Not only were the field laborers and millmen included in the strike order at Aiea, but even the house servants were told to quit. A gang of Chinese doing irrigation work in upper levels, and workmen engaged in keeping a pump going were visited by a delegation of Japanese strikers and ordered to stop. The pump was shut down and the irrigation men returned to their quarters, having been notified that if they persisted in working they would find trouble.

Violence, in a mild form, has already been recorded at Aiea. Mr. Onodera of the Japanese Chronicle, went to Aiea yesterday to study the situation. Laborers gathered around him and threatened personal violence unless he left the camp. He was called a spy and one of the laborers attacked him, but he succeeded in getting away without being hurt.

The Nippon Jiji, organ of the Higher Wage Association, stated in its issue yesterday that at the Waipahu plantation, the Japanese working in the mill sent a demand a few days ago to the management, asking for an increase of wages, and received no reply. Then, according to the Jiji, the manager asked for time to consider the matter, and to wait until 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The Jiji says positively that reports from Waipahu were to the effect that the strike would be fully on by today, although other reports said it would await the outcome of the Aiea strike. The demands of the strikers include the following items:

1. An increase of $3 per month as wages for common laborers, and the wages of other laborers increased proportionately.
2. To build new houses in the camp.
3. Repair the road to the camp.
4. To make the departure of the train, carrying laborers, more punctual.

HENRY IS TO LEAVE CAPITOL

High Sheriff's Duties Have Been Changed by Legislation.

Plans for the carrying out of the spirit and intent of the county control idea, indorsed at the last session of the Legislature, are being perfected by the executive departments of the government, and Governor Frear believes that the most important work confronting the Territorial and county officials at the present time is to put the machinery of the new legislation into operation as smoothly as possible.

Among the important changes that will go into effect is in the functions of High Sheriff Henry. With the beginning of the new biennial period, July 1, when the counties receive more money and more responsibility, the office of High Sheriff Henry will be transferred from the Capitol to the Territorial prison, and he will continue his duties as warden of the Territorial prison. While he will remain, nominally at least, the High Sheriff of the Territory, the greater portion of the duties in the service of papers will be transferred to the County Sheriff.

Plan of Cooperation.
"These duties are ones that come within the province of the County Sheriff," said Governor Frear yesterday, "and particularly so in view of the policy for a greater degree of responsibility being placed in the hands of the county authorities. When the change goes into effect, Sheriff Henry will move his headquarters to the prison. Several plans for economy have been suggested in this connection. One is that the Territorial Sheriff and Warden be appointed by the City and County Supervisors as the warden of the county prison, thus doing away with the services of an extra man."

Governor Frear stated that it was a matter to be decided by the Supervisors, but that in his opinion it was a suggestion that could be followed out with considerable profit and which was entitled to consideration. He stated that the same general plan of cooperation could be followed in feeding the prisoners, and that by a consolidation of the necessary labor so it could serve the county as well as the Territory, much would be gained for mutual economy.

HACKDRIVER, A SPREE AND A BROKEN LEG

"Nick" Peterson, a well-known hack driver, was picked up on Fort street opposite the Club stables last night, shortly after eleven o'clock, asleep and with a broken leg.

He had been on a spree for some time and it is thought that he climbed on to a seat of the bootblack stand, near where he was found, and then rolled off in a drunken stupor, breaking his leg in the fall.

He was taken to the Queen's hospital where the broken bone was set. Peterson was unable to state how his leg came to be broken and could not give any information as to whether it was an accident or the result of a fight.

Two years ago Peterson drank carbolic acid by mistake and had his death announced. He lived to read his obituaries.

LAST ADDRESS OF FAIRBANKS

Fine Speech at Men's League
Supper Made Last Evening.

Former Vice President of the United States Fairbanks bade a public farewell to the people of Hawaii at a banquet given last evening at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel by the Men's League of Central Union church. It was Ladies' Night with the club, and about three hundred guests were present to meet and hear the distinguished statesman. A surprisingly large number of ladies were present, and they applauded the visitor's remarks with as much vigor as did the regular members of the club.

The guests sat at long tables in both the dining-room and on the Ewa lanai. The guests of honor were at a short table in the mauka end of the room, and behind them were the flags of America and Hawaii. At this table were the toastmaster, ex-Governor George R. Carter; Mr. Fairbanks, Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Timmons, Mrs. Frear and Governor Frear. The dinner, which was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks, included the following menu:

Canape of Caviar	Radishes
Oysters	Oyster Cocktail
	Consomme en Tasse
	Fillet of Sole, Tartar Sauce
	Roast Young Chicken
Saratoga Chip Potatoes
	Asparagus Hollandaise
	Combination Salad
Neapolitan Ice Cream	Assorted Cakes
	Coffee

Mr. Carter introduced the guest of the evening in a speech which rang with a true Hawaiian welcome. He spoke of many features of Island life which he hoped Mr. Fairbanks had noticed during his travels around the group. Mr. Carter claimed that the further one went away from the mainland the more patriotic the people were. He reminded Mr. Fairbanks that there were no color lines drawn, and the people here stand for all mankind rather than for one race.

RECEPTION AT ARCADIA IN FAIRBANKS' HONOR

Governor and Mrs. Frear gave the last of their monthly At Homes yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at "Arcadia," Punahou. The reception was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, and their daughter Mrs. Timmons, who have been the house guests of the Governor and Mrs. Frear during their stay in Honolulu. The Hawaiian band was in attendance playing under the trees. It was a pretty garden party, and the Governor and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Timmons and Mrs. Mott-Smith received out-of-doors, just by the walk on the terrace leading to the house.

In the open lanai a large bowl filled with cool lemonade was presided over by Mrs. Philip Frear and the pretty tea table was looked after by Mrs. Sutton. There was a flow of guests during the two hours of the reception. The ladies of the receiving party were becoming and pretty frocks in accord with the garden party idea. Included among the guests were many representatives of the Federal, and Territorial governments and the services. Among the guests were Colonel Schuyler, U. S. A., Major and Mrs. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Beecher B. Ray, Captain and Mrs. Moses, Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger.

ADVANTAGES OF ALAKEA SHED

New Wharf Covering to Have Many Very Excellent
Features.

Within a very short time all the large passenger steamers arriving at this port will be docked at the Alakea street wharf, where the new shed is at present under course of construction. As soon as this is completed, all the boats of the larger type will be docked there, and vastly greater conveniences will be had in the handling of passengers.

The new shed is a double-decker, so to speak, and the framework of the first deck has just been completed by Contractor Ouderkerk. It is on the top of this that the gangway from vessels like the Manchuria, Korea and Mongolia will lead, and the passengers, instead of having to let themselves down a perilous incline, as is now the case at the Hackfeld wharf, will walk from the deck of the ship to a little gallery on the first deck of the wharf shed, from which they may walk downstairs with the greatest of ease.

The advantages of the new wharf are manifold. To the hack and automobile drivers these will hardly be so apparent, as the entrance to the wharf is almost directly opposite the Alakea street car-line. Complaints have been heard time and again from tourists on account of the fact that, on alighting from a steamer, they have been compelled to either pay for a hack or automobile or walk uptown from the dusty waterfront. Visitors will also be spared the scenery in one of Honolulu's most unsightly districts. There is certainly nothing attractive about the lower end of Honolulu's waterfront.

Things will be different when the new Alakea street wharf shed is constructed. Though the old fishmarket is not a "thing of beauty," it is vastly more pleasing to the eye than the scene at the other end of the front.

Progress has been booming on the construction work of the shed, Contractor Ouderkerk having several clever schemes for facilitating its advance. His movable derrick has done away with the danger of injury, to a great extent, to his men, who are working up in the air, and has also been the means of saving him a good deal of money, time and trouble. The shed will not, of course, be completed for some time yet, but it is already looming up in good shape.

FAIRBANKS SEES BONINE PICTURES

Robert K. Bonine, the moving picture expert, had distinguished guests last evening at his studio on Hotel street. To Governor and Mrs. Frear, former vice-President Fairbanks, wife and daughter, Secretary Mott-Smith and wife, B. F. Dillingham, and many others he displayed the splendid moving pictures of scenes Hawaiian he has taken in the Islands.

Mr. Bonine exhibited the pictures of the Volcano of Kilauea, the daylight scene showing the flowing lava and the night view of the face of the volcano especially pleasing Mr. Fairbanks, to whom the pictures were new. Among other pictures shown the party were those taken at the Leper Settlement on Molokai.

The establishment of a civic center included in the bond issue is to be submitted to the people of San Francisco.
